BLUE AND WHITE STILL UNBLEMISHED AFTER ITS SEVENTH GRID BATTLE

BEATTY AND CO.

HAVE EASY TIME WITH TOLEDO UNIVERSITY

When Caesar triumphantly re-tuffed to Rome, he passed a remark which has come down to the present day, when he said, "I came, I saw and I conquered." However, the grid-iron representatives of Toledo University have put their own interpretation on the words of the illustrious Roman general and they have applied this interpretation to their rout last Saturday. The up-state collegians spoke in awe and reverence of the powerful Musketeer scoring machine when they said, "We came, we saw and we're sorry."

The Musketeers engaged in one of their gayest parties of the season last Saturday, when they ran sixty-nine points up against six for Toledo. The Xavierians scored absolutely at will throughout the game and only the beneficence of Coach Joe Meyer in sending in his substitutes prevented the score from mounting any higher. The regulars began the game and it took them about three minutes to put over their first touchdown. From then on it was just a matter of whether or not the scorekeeper had enough numbers for the Xavierian total.

Toledo was absolutely helpless and not once did they get beyond the fifty-yard line; in fact, they made one first down on a forward pass to twenty-five for St. Xavier. When the visitors had the ball it was first down ten; second down fifteen; third down twenty and then they punted. Whereupon the Musketeers opened up their offense and proceeded to a touchdown, only to repeat the process again. The only consolation for Toledo was a lonely six points which they made by scooping up one of the numerous Xavierian fumbles. At no other time were they even troubled, some as they were more harassed by the thought of the Musketeer offense than they were worried over how to even the score.

The entire Musketeer team put up a faultless exhibition of the way that football should be played, and they specialized in end runs, line plunges and forward passes. The Xavierians had a dazzling offense, which the visitors could not fathom, with a choice assortment of runs, bucks and bewildering formations. However, the Musketeers did not have to show any of their tricks, and they relied solely on straight football.

Once again "Pude" Beatty proved himself to be a real triple threat man, for throughout the entire game he ran, passed and kicked the ball in a marvelous fashion. He scored six touchdowns on runs which varied from thirty to seventy yards. Beatty's playing had the crowd in a constant state of excitement and his marvelous broken field running was executed with skill and speed that delighted the hearts of Musketeer rooters. The remainder of the Xavierian backfield was there, too, for the work of Burns, Allgeier, Olines and Kelly gave evidence of ability and practice.

In the first period the Musketeers made four markers, in all of which Beatty figured prominently. The first touchdown came as a result of a nineteen yard run after the Xavierians had obtained the ball on the opponents twenty-yard line. The second score again saw Beatty in the fore when he travelled seventy yards for his second touchdown. The third marker was made by Gosiger, who was on the receiving end of a twenty-five yard pass by Beatty, while the fourth counter came when "Pude" twisted and turned thirty-five yards to the goal.

In the second quarter Coach Meyer led practically his entire second

TEACHERS

ARE NEXT MUSKETEER OPPONENTS

Coach Joe Meyer's Musketeers are taking things easily and yet seriously in preparation for the game with Kentucky Central Teacher's College next Saturday. Little is known of the caliber of the Kentuckians and the Xavierians do not intend to be taken by surprise.

In addition to preparing for Saturday's contest, the Musketeer monitor has his eye toward the future and is tutoring his charges for the last two games of the season.

As usual the game will be called at 2:30 at Corcoran Field with Roger Johnson officiating.

RULES

Governing Poland Scholarship Fund Announced

Rev. Daniel M. O'Connell, S. J., Dean of the Liberal Arts College, wishes to call the attention of students to two recent rules. The first is that Juniors and Seniors must average "C" if they wish to enjoy the free tuition under the terms of the scholarship fund founded by Rev. John Poland, S. J.

The second rule is that students must have an average of "C" at the beginning of their Senior year if they expect to receive their degrees the following June. This requirement is in effect this year.

The Poland Fund is available only to those who have made their Freshman and Sophomore years at St. Xavier.

It was also announced that the erection of a tablet to the memory of Father Poland is contemplated. The tablet will be placed in one of the corridors of Alumni Science Hall.

The rules requiring an average of "C" are similar to those at Princeton where no one can become a Junior or Senior without an average of "C".

Congratulations

Charles S. Bell, professor of criminal law at St. Xavier Law School, was elected a judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the long term.

Walter A. Ryan, lecturer on properties at the School of Commerce and Sociology was elected judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the short term.

Edward M. Hurley, former faculty member of the Law School was also elected judge in the Court of Common Pleas. We wish the three lawyers continued success in their new positions.

LET'S GO, CO-OPS

Students of the night school are requested to submit news items of general information to their class president for publication in The Xavierian News. Humorous anecdotes, brief poems, general topics, criticisms, are all welcomed by the editor.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE AND SOCIOLOGY TO CHOOSE OFFICERS FOR YEAR 1926-27

SHUBERT

WITH IDEALISTS

Elmer H. Schubert

In Elmer Schubert, the Night School has the type of a man who appears capable of injecting spirit and enthusiasm into any project with which he is connected, whether his connection be direct or indirect, whether the nature of the project be large or trivial. The fall term of 1925 opened, and Schubert found himself enrolled in the Ad-Sales Class, under the tutorage of Ren Mulford. He knew no one and no one knew him. A month later he was nominated for secretary of the Co-ops upon the Musketeer Ticket. An adept in the printing game, with advertising as an objective, he immediately set to work and characterized the campaign of the Musketeers by his distribution and display of splendid illustrated designs and cards. He issued individual cards for his candidates, each bearing a slang title at the top.

This year Schubert has been selected as the Campaign Manager of the Ideal Ticket. If this party meets with success at the polls, it will be attributable in the major portion of his individual efforts.

"ATHENAEUM"

To Appear for Homecomers

According to present plans of the editorial staff, the Athenaeum, literary magazine of the college, will appear in about a week. William Dammarell, editor of the magazine, states that practically all of the necessary contents have been received. He also urges the students of the college to contribute to the future issues of this year, which will be three in number. As the editorial and business managements are in the hands of the students, so also the contents of each issue should be the product chiefly of the undergraduates.

Father O'Connell, dean of the Liberal Arts College, is trying to obtain a suitable picture of the intended St. Aloysius statue, to place it in the coming issue. Father C. C. Martindale, S. J., the eminent English ascetical writer, is a contributor to the November issue of the Athenaeum. The Alumni will be represented by John Bunker, '05, who has written another of his excellent poems. With a number of interesting student articles the Athenaeum gives promise of a well-balanced November number.

CO-OPS

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER COMING ELECTION

On Monday evening the officers of the Co-ops held their final meeting subsequent to their annual election, which is to take place Friday evening, November 12th.

Names of the rival tickets and of the campaign managers were submitted to the chairman of the meeting and approved.

The tickets are as follows:

The Ideal Ticket—President, Francis M. Jacobs; Vice-President, Paul Feist; Secretary, Frank Bankemper; Treasurer, Ann Murray; Campaign Manager, Elmer H. Schubert.

The Xavierian Ticket—President, Herbert E. Louneman; Vice-President, Jos. S. Pollman; Secretary, Louis Wilking; Treasurer, Al Schmidt; and Campaign Manager, Geo. Schaefer.

The Owl's Ticket—President, Harry Luckman; Vice-President, Elizabeth Keller; Secretary, Ralph B. Knoebber; Treasurer, Richard Bennett; and Campaign Manager, John Hogan.

Mr. Edward J. Ostendorf, retiring president, will be chairman of the election, which will be held in Memorial Hall. An entertainment committee was selected to prepare some amusement feature to follow the election.

It was decided to allot ten minutes to each campaign manager to present the platform of his ticket, introduce each one of his candidates individually to the voters and summarize the advantages of the choice of his ticket in preference to the two rival ones. Each candidate for president will be permitted to speak for a maximum time of five minutes.

Enthusiasm and rivalry for the coming election continues to increase among the student body. Many former students of the night school will be on hand but will not be eligible to participate in the voting. The students who do not attend classes on Friday evening are urged to make it their point to be present and enjoy their privilege as a member of the Co-ops, of casting a ballot.

Freshman Sodality Meeting CHANGED

A new arrangement has been perfected for the Freshman Sodality. In the future their meetings will be held at 8:30 on Monday mornings, according to an announcement of Rev. Jos. F. Keifer, S. J., Moderator. Monday is the Freshman Mass Day. The office of the Immaculate Conception will be recited during the Mass. Formerly the Freshman Sodality met at 11:00 A. M. on Thursday. Now, the Sodality will meet on Monday, after Mass.

POLICY

Think, Talk and Live St. Xavier.
Ample encouragement to all activities, academic, athletic, dramatic, forensic, literary and social.

Operation of this newspaper as the student voice.

AIM

A co-operative bond between alumni, undergraduates and faculty.

Placement of college loyalty above departmental prejudice.

MEANS

A new, pappy, optimistic college paper.

RECIPROCATE

At one time during the past year, there appeared an article in the News admonishing everyone to attend every function of St. Xavier. More specifically the argument was that the "Intelligenza" should be present at athletic events, while the athletes should reciprocate by attending academic events. So far this year, the former class have followed the formula. The president of the Glee Club is handling programs before the games, the members of the Masque are conspicuous about the campus every Saturday, and the editor and business manager of the Musketeer are cheer leaders.

And now to the point. Within two weeks the Masque will present its annual play, this year "The Rivals." It is a splendid production. The play itself is extremely funny, and the cast has worked hard, very hard, to make the presentation a success. But in this they are powerless, without the co-operation of the student body. It is far more difficult to act before an empty or poorly filled house than it is to play the game to empty stands. So let's reciprocate. Every student should feel it an obligation to be present at this annual performance of the Masque Players. And there is no doubt whatsoever that the presentation of "The Rivals" will delight its entire audience, even the most meager of intellects. J. G.

THEATRE PARTY TO BE GIVEN BY NURSES' ALUMNAE

On Monday evening, November 15th, the Good Samaritan Nurses' Alumni will conduct a theatre party at the Grand Opera House. The modern musical comedy, "Dearest Enemies," will be presented that evening. Helen Ford and George Purcell will play the leads. Students of St. Xavier College are invited.

LITERARY COMMENT

What Really Counts

The ordinary college student goes to college to become educated. In some instances, we find the college graduate educated, that is, he has hoarded up so many credit hours in so many subjects that he could not help but be educated. But, after it all, is he happy?

If he does not like the things educated men and women like he is not educated; I don't care if he goes to the best college in the land. The crux of this whole, blithering question, which moderns term "education" is that love for the best human kind has to offer in recreation, livelihood, business and everything else connected with life. His end, with regard to college, is intermediate; that is, he is using the college only as a means to gain some further end; in most cases, this further end is wealth; whereas, it should be happiness.

Now, wealth will not make anyone as happy as knowledge—wealth is a good means to insure bodily comfort,

A COLLEGE COMEDY

Students of other Catholic colleges in the Missouri province, we understand, are writing comic plays and are performing them in fine fashion. Why can not St. Xavier College do likewise?

Last year one of the eminent graduates of St. Xavier College mentioned to us the advisability of treating the classic-weary group of St. Xavier's dramatic admirers to a light, fantastic, humorous, all-St. Xavier comedy. By an all-St. Xavier comedy, we mean, one which would be composed, stage-managed and performed by students of St. Xavier College.

There is surely enough talent here to do the work; St. Xavier is composed of talent from the two most humorous people on the earth. There are those noble sons of Erin, with all the sparkling humor, characteristic of their race; and then, that laughing, good-natured humor, which put the "heim" in "heima gemacht."

Now, by a comedy, we do not understand, a burlesque or musical farce such as the twentieth century public has sponsored with approving audiences. Nor, in composing this play, should we desire any of the questionable matter that fills most of the magazines of the so-called humorous type, to be utilized. What we mean is good, clean humor, of which we hear more any one day on St. Xavier's campus or in a St. Xavier class room than has appeared in ten ordinary burlesques or thirty issues of magazines that assume to be representative of collegiate wit.

An all-St. Xavier comedy? Why not?

but bodily comfort is not the best this life has to offer. What, then, really counts?

Now and then a man of practical affairs, a factulist, a busy man, busily devoted to making money and reforming his community, will write and ask a poor editor, what on earth his editorials have to do with the tariff and the World Court, with foreign debts and the next national election, with the activities which interest a man at college, in short, with the burning great questions of the day. And said poor editor must answer—nothing. He writes for the man who can now and then forget the burning great questions of the day, who can forget even how important it is to have an abundance of money in the bank. He writes for the man who gives some quiet thought to living happily. He thinks it important and essential to live happily and—wisely; a strange thought for this day and year.

We have read much of those burning great questions of the day, in the past, and yet, for life itself, we cannot recall one line of all that we read; we suspect that not one line was worth remembering. But we did read something else; we heard other things; we saw other things. And that is why we're happy.

We read some editorials in the New York Times and the Chicago Tribune when we come upon them; and then there's Mencken in the Mercury; Harry Emerson Fosdick in Harpers, and Myles Connolly in Columbia; Chesterton, the wizard of paradoxes comes over our path once in a while, and is good (as good as the English ale he drinks); Balzac, occasionally gives us a ride in the clouds of Twenty-first century thinking; then, to round off our broad smile at the burning great questions of the day, we have Time, the Review of Reviews, the New Republic and a host of others.

We hear good music; the Cincinnati Symphony concerts are most interesting; Jachetz Helfetz is beautiful on the violin; Paderewski is wonderful on the piano; Marion Talley sings "Swanee River" perfectly.

We see interesting things: "The Song of the Flame" could not be surpassed; Duveneck and Carot in the

An appreciation, beyond ours, we believe to be education, because it will necessarily bring happiness. Once we were wont to bemoan the scarcity of good humor in life, and, by good humor, we mean humor that makes us laugh when we're alone. But nowadays we mean no longer. We read the burning questions of the day, we hear good music and we see, at least, we try to see, everything.

WHERE TO AFTER THE ST. XAVIER-HASKELL GAME

SUCCESS OR FAILURE

Which Is Better?

A man there was
Who ne'er did cogitate,
Nor dream, nor plan,
About his future state.

His friend, much wiser far
As life's hard road he trod,
Kept e'er in view his final end,
Full happiness in God.

The man who never looked
Beyond his nearing death,
Piled high his bags of gold,
Grew rich with every breath.

Death placed his chilly hand
Upon Dives and his friend.
Which one is happy now?
Which one has naught to mend?

Can glittering gold give joy supreme?
Or open Heaven's gate?
Our Dives knows the answer now:
Alas! for him — too late.

For us a solemn warning
In our striving for life's goal.
Kind words, good deeds alone,
Win Heaven for the soul.

HIGH SCHOOL WARRIORS STAGE TWO GAMES

Blue Team Easy Victor Over Ludlow High, 19 to 7

After making two false starts, the Xavier Hi gridgers finally showed that they are a classy team by bowling over the scrappy little Ludlow (Ky.) team last Thursday. At the very beginning of the game they showed that they are ready to play any team in this city, or any other, to a stand still.

Xavier kicked off to Ludlow, and after that team had made two first downs, our boys took the ball on downs. Then began a steady march which resulted in a touchdown, with Captain Egbers going over, after snagging a brilliant pass from Foley. A few minutes later Mairose followed his captain and before the first quarter was ended, Foley made the score 19 by scoring a touchdown and kicking the goal.

From then till the game was over Xavier seemed content with being on the defensive, probably because they wished to conceal their strength from the St. Mary's scouts present.

In the fourth quarter the Ludlow boys scored when Flemming passed to Rigney, who outstepped our secondary defense and crossed the line. Rigney kicked the extra point. Rigney at end and Fleming at Quarter starred for Ludlow, playing fast, accurate and well-nigh perfect football.

The entire Xavier team played good ball with Mercurio showing great skill on the line and Mairose and Scanlon with Foley deserve honors. Captain Egbers, of course, Ineco, ably tending to the back field was great until removed, after a bad fall.

We wish also to commend Charlie Walters on the fact that he played throughout most of the last half with a painfully strained ligament.

The game was really only a stiff scrimmage, being booked for that purpose and our boys took it as such, just running up a large enough score to convince their backers of their strength. The line-up:

ARMISTICE DAY, NOVEMBER 11

Thursday, November 11, at 11 a.m., all business will stop for two minutes while the whistles and bells recall to our minds the war from which we emerged victorious just eight years ago.

One purpose of this demonstration is to remind us that, although the actual first line fighting is over, the terrible effects still remain in the form of broken and disabled soldiers, condemned to a life of pain and inactivity. So while we rejoice that we no longer suffer from the scourge of war, let us remember that there are those who, to save our homes and lives, willingly suffered death, and sometimes worse than that, a living death. Hats off to the veterans.

XAVIER VICTOR IN ANNUAL GAME

St. Xavier's fast and courageous eleven plunged to a decisive 20-7 victory over St. Mary's husky team in Monday's after-school game. Shortly after St. Mary had kicked off, Walters blocked a kick and our star end, Egbers, scooped it up to run 30 yards

Feast of Saint Stanislaus

Throughout the world on November 13th, is celebrated the feast of St. Stanislaus, the Patron of Youth. In the eyes of the Church, this feast is regarded as highly important. It is placed on the same plane as St. Aloysius. St. Stanislaus' feast day should be of particular interest to us, because when we consider that he, dying at the early age of seventeen, received a Saint's crown of glory, we ought to accept him as the ideal model for us to imitate. His life outwardly was not extraordinary, but inwardly, he possessed the necessary qualities to merit canonization.

Stanislaus was born in 1550 of parents who were wealthy nobles of Poland. At the age of 12, he journeyed to the Jesuit College at Vienna. In direct contrast to St. Aloysius, Stanislaus was lively, cheerful and ever eager for an opportunity for innocent pleasure, and these traits made him very popular among his fellow-students.

While he was attending school at Vienna, he discovered that he had a vocation to become a Jesuit. Knowing that his father would oppose his plan of entering the order, Stanislaus ran away from Vienna, and trudged wearily eight hundred miles to Augsburg, Germany. There he applied to the Provincial, Peter Canisius, who sent him to Rome. At the capital of Italy, he was received into the novitiate of St. Francis Borgia. Shortly after his reception, however, he died a quiet death.

He had not preached, he had not worked miracles, he had not converted nations, but yet he has been made a Saint. Why, simply because he had led an exemplary life, throughout which, he was sincerely devoted to holiness and yet was as human as the rest of us. His brother, Paul, inspired by the divine tone of Stanislaus' life, became a Jesuit also.

Likewise we, in a manner similar to Paul, should strive to imitate St. Stanislaus' life and beginning on his feast day, henceforth regard him as our chosen intercessor.

First Try-Out For Play

The first meetings conducted by Mr. Edward Roth for the coming play which the high school will present to the public before Christmas were held on Thursday and Friday evenings. There were at least fifty students present on these nights to try out for special parts which they think they can fill. The title is "We've Got to Have Money." Further notice will be posted on the bulletin board, as to those who should attend and as to the time of their meeting. Let us help make it a success and show the merits derived from the high school by participating in them.

for the first score. The first quarter ended shortly after in mid-field.

The second quarter developed into a kicking duel, and was featured by the brilliant runs of Brand and Foley. The Blue Boys started a steady march down the field which resulted in another touchdown. Foley carried the ball and kicked the extra point.

St. Mary's began an aerial attack in the third quarter, which continued throughout the game. Shortly after the quarter opened, Bob Brand picked up a fumble and tore off a beautiful 60-yard run for St. Xavier's third score. Foley kicked the point. In this quarter, St. Mary made its only score. A series of passes brought the ball under Xavier's goal and King plunged the remaining two yards for a touchdown. Frustano also made the extra point.

The last quarter saw a frantic series of passes by St. Mary's, some of which made good. But neither team scored.

CLASS RINGS SELECTED

The momentous question of class rings has been decided for the class of 1927. It was only after many long consultations with six or seven of the leading jewelers of the city that the class presidents unanimously agreed to give the order to the Miller Jewelry Co. Competition aided us in getting the very low price of $5.00 on the class rings. This is very much cheaper than could formerly be had, though the quality and workmanship is guaranteed to be the same. We know that we are not misplacing our order for Millers for the last six years have given Xaverians both service and satisfaction. The class rings will probably be ready before Thanksgiving.

Here's Your Chance

At present there is a contest on in the High School and throughout the states for the best essay on one of the following subjects:

1. Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease.
2. Relation of Chemistry to Enrichment of Life.
3. Relation of Chemistry to Agriculture and Forestry.
4. Relation of Chemistry to National Defense.
5. Relation of Chemistry to the Home.
6. Relation of Chemistry to the Development of an Industry or a Resource of the United States.

Anyone is eligible to enter the contest, especially all chemistry students. The essay should not consist of more than 2,500 words. The prizes offered are six four-year scholarships to Yale, Harvard and other institutions, each providing tuition fees and $500 annually. Let's go out and get one for we wish to keep up the good name of St. Xavier's by having at least one representative.

ST. XAVIER TEAMS STAGE GAMES

The Juniors defeated the Covington A. C., in a loosely played game Monday, at Coreoran Field. Greninger and Koch starred for the Juniors, Koch broke up the majority of the enemy's plays, showing a fine brand of defense work.

In the scrimmage between the Midgets and Minims, the latter came out on top, defeating the Midgets 6 to 0. In the last few minutes of play Robert Koch intercepted a pass on the Midgets' 25-yard line, and ran for a touch down.

Although the game was closely fought the Minims were in possession of the ball most of the game. The boys have showed much improvement since their last game, and we hope that they will keep up the good work.

The Class Spirit Of Third A

"Third A" is very well represented in all activities and enterprises throughout the high school. To prove this, please read the following:

Eight members in the Acolythical Society, fourteen in the Senior Sodality, four belonging to the Orchestra, seven to the Band, three debating teams, three on the Xavierian News Staff, three choir members. This class in the first year won the baseball laurels; in the second year won the baseball and basketball honors; this year they have won the baseball thus far and are sure to present a strong basketball team. Ever since the class made its appearance at St. Xavier's, the team representing it in baseball can boast of a clean record, as they have not lost a game during their stay at this high school. Watch the cup, boys! Edw. Brueggemann.

New Corporation of Ad-Sales Class Tackles Problems of Better Business

The class in Advertising and Salesmanship has swung into action with R. M. Bennett as President; Joseph B. Druffel, Vice-President; William Staunton, Jr., Secretary, and Albert P. Niklas, Treasurer. A new approach to the study of a campaign in advertising and salesmanship has been adopted and the Mulford Class Coffee Corporation has organized for business. The capital is unlimited and the shares of stock have no par value. Carroll S. Lindsey, who was a member of the class during the last semester of '26, was elected President, with Miss Susan J. Meyers, Vice-President; Robert J. Frey, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer, and Albert P. Niklas, Joseph B. Druffel, George W. Hogan, William Staunton, Jr., and Fred J. Fisher, members of the Board of Directors.

The Corporation is to market a new brand Sac-San and the slogan adopted is: "The Coffee That Satisfies All." In this make-believe new business house the writing of letters that sell, the problems of distribution, the preparing of copy, the selection of mediums and other essentials of successful procedure will give the real human touch to the course.

Students Pledge Support to Annual

The Seniors held another meeting on Thursday, November 4th, to determine just how much the graduating class really wanted a high school annual. After the report of the committee composed of Joseph Dressman, 4A; Robert Schmidt, 4B; Joseph Zeigler, 4C, and Arthur Linz, 4D, the meeting was thrown open to discussion. A number of students spoke, discussing the cost and means of meeting it. It was generally agreed upon that because of conditions in the city, we would be forced to find means of financing it other than by advertising.

A theatre party, sale of ornamented belts and class donations were a few of the means suggested to raise the money. A motion was made to decide by secret ballot how many of the students were willing to incur the expense of an annual. The motion was carried, and the class almost unanimously pledged its support. The committee was reappointed to put the matter before the rector. The meeting was adjourned with all the students in high spirits over the rapid progress made to date.

ATTENDANCE INCREASING

There has been a steady improvement in the number of communicants at the Special Mass on Thursday mornings. Last Thursday there were one hundred and fifty present, the Senior and Sophomore classes leading in the number of those present. It is hoped that this good showing will continue.

On November 11th Mass will be celebrated in honor of Saint Stanislaus. All the students are expected to be present, and receive Communion in honor of this Patron of Youth.

ORCHESTRA MEETS

On last Tuesday the orchestra held a very important business meeting. Mr. Bernard J. Wuelter, the conductor presided. About fifty musicians were in attendance. The first purpose of the meeting according to the director was to get the members have not been attending the practices, acquainted with each other.

A warning was issued to all who and to those who make a habit of coming late. It was clearly pointed out that the work of the orchestra can be retarded by a few coming late. Inattention and talking at rehearsals will not be tolerated. The time before the first performance is only a matter of a few weeks, and realizing that the first performance of the orchestra will either make or break it, the director is compelled to demand the greatest effort of the players.

Another condition has been made. Anyone receiving a condition in the quarterly examinations will be declared ineligible for the entire year.

team, and they succeeded in scoring a touchdown. "Ossie" Presto hurled the leather 25 yards into the arms of Bob King, who made a sensational run of fifty yards, in which he escaped the clutches of at least four tacklers. "Gooter" Wenzel missed but one of his many tries for point, making seven of them. At the half, the score was 34 to 0.

In the third quarter, the substitutes were guilty of several misplays and many fumbles so that the score had not changed when the first team returned late in this period. In a few minutes after he entered the game, Beatty made his fourth touchdown of the afternoon when he tore around end for thirty-five yards.

In the last period, "Pude" made two more touchdowns, on runs of 30 and 50 yards, each time through almost the entire opposing team. Ed Burns made a beautiful run to add six more points to the Musketeer total, while reliable Joe Kelly plugged and fought his way to the final score of the day.

Captain Rapp again played an ex-defense, and he was closely followed by Mark Schmidt, who gave evidence of being of all-Ohio caliber. The whole Musketeer eleven played in a wonderful fashion that gave evidence of making lots of trouble for the opposition in the remaining games of the season.

For Toledo, Captain Alexander and Dunn played well.

The line-up:

St. Xavier	Position	Toledo

FOOTBALL NOTES

"Pude" Beatty set a record for future Musketeer backs to shoot at when he scored six touchdowns in Saturday's game with Toledo. It was undoubtedly the most brilliant individual performance of the season to date. After Saturday's game "Pude" was likened to the immortal "Red" Grange, but just as "Red" had his Britton to clear the path for him, so "Pude" has ten other men out there striving to make every play a touchdown for him.

Joe Kelly, our noted "Bone-crusher", is as dependable a fullback as any coach could want. Whenever called upon, Joe is always good for three or four yards. On defense, Joe excels, being noted for his ability to diagnose the plays of the opposition.

In the 1926 Musketeer football program five Musketeers were chosen as likely All-Ohio choices. The five men were Captain "Hub" Rapp, Mark Schmidt, Joe Kelly, Paul Beatty, and "Dutch" Wenzel. From our standpoint it seems to be a hard proposition to keep any of these men off the All-Star teams.

Conch Meyer gave practically every man on the squad a chance last Saturday to display his ability in a real game. Particular attention was paid to the Sophomores breaking into the game, and the cYarlings performed well to a man. There are twelve Sophs on the squad, all of whom seem capable of first string men.

After Saturday's massacre the total point score ran up to 279. Not so bad as compared to our opponents thirty. Paul Beatty continues to lead the scorers with 14 touchdowns for a total of 84 points.

Every rooter in the stands stood up and cheered for Bob King when he scored a touchdown in the Toledo game. After being out last season with a broken leg Bob seems to have made a successful comeback. It takes a real man to comeback after such an injury and we all take our hats off to Bob.

Murray Normal of Murray, Kentucky, will furnish the opposition next Saturday. The Kentuckians have a 195-pound full-back in the person of "Wee" Wells, the star of the team. "Wee" will undoubtedly find it pretty tough to hit a line composed of such men as Rapp, Schiebert, Wenzel and Janszen.

Books Donated to Library

Rev. Wm. Kane, S. J., announced the gift of six volumes of Jansen's History of the German people in the original to the College library. The donor is Dr. J. E. Greive of the Union Central Building.

Friends of the college having treatises of this nature which are very valuable to the students, are asked to donate them to the library. The college has ample room for these in the new reading room and has already received many notable gifts of books from interested friends.

ST. XAVIER COLLEGE

REPRESENTED AT BANQUET OF CINCINNATI SOCIAL HYGIENE SOCIETY

On Wednesday, November 3, Rev. Thomas I. Kelly, S. J., professor of Ethics and Sociology at St. Xavier College, attended a banquet given at the Cincinnati Club, by the Cincinnati Social Society, in honor of Dr. Max J. Erner, director of Educational Measures of the American Social Hygiene Association. City Manager Sherrill and Dr. Peters of the Cincinnati Board of Health were also at the banquet.

SOCIETY OF JESUS REMEMBERS ITS MEMBERS

All Jesuit priests offered their three Masses on the Feast of All Souls for the deceased members of the order. This is an annual custom in the Jesuit order.

It has been announced that the Mass at the Chapel Assembly next Wednesday, November 17th, will be offered for the deceased Professors and Alumni of the College.

These services are being held because November is dedicated to the Poor Souls by the Church. All Catholics are asked to pray for their relatives and friends during November.

Students are reminded that Saturday, November 13th, is the Feast of St. Stanislaus. This year marks the two hundredth anniversary of his canonization and all youths are urged to ask his intercession. He, along with St. Aloysius, Gabriel and John Berchmans, is a patron of young people. St. Stanislaus, who was a member of the Jesuit order, died at an early age.

NEW FEAST CELEBRATED

On October 31st, the Feast of Christ the King, which was celebrated for the first time, the religious members of the faculty, headed by Rev. J. J. O'Callahan, Vice-Provincial, attended the High Mass at St. Xavier Church. The sermon was preached by Rev. George Leahy, S. J., of the high school.

The St. Aloysius Statue Collection Fund now amounts to $156.00.

PRESIDENT

Making Retreat At St. Louis

Rev. Hubert F. Brockman, S. J., President of St. Xavier, is at present making his annual retreat at St. Stanislaus Novitiate, Florissant, Mo. Before departing for Missouri, Fr. Brockman was entertained at dinner in honor of his Patron Saint's Day which was celebrated on November 2nd. Rev. John Neenan, S. J., Rector of the Milford Novitiate; Rev. Wm. Mitchell, S. J., and Rev. Michael Elcher, S. J., also of Milford, were his guests.

AL SCHMITZ WITH ACCOUNTANTS

Al Schmitz, graduate of St. Xavier High School and College, is now studying accounting at the night. Al was an active worker in all student activities during the past eight years of his attendance at Xavier and it is earnestly hoped that he will continue the good work in the School of Commerce and Sociology.

Intra-Semester Examination Results Announced

Students who were conditioned in the first intra-semester tests are busy preparing to remove their low notes. Some conditioned exams were held last Saturday and a number will be held this coming Saturday. Students who failed in the first tests or who fail to pass the conditioned exams are dropped from the classes in which they made the low marks.

Another result of the intra-semester tests was the formation of two new classes, Spanish IB, taught by Mr. Eugene Perazzo, and Mathematics IB, taught by Mr. Ronald Jeanmoughin.
